To Whom It May Concern,

Gilbert Rivas-Licon was a student in my NETW-210 Wireless Networking class at Champlain College. He delivered A+ work and demonstrated excellent academic aptitude throughout the semester. Specifically, he showed strong problem-solving skills and a clear ability to conduct college-level research.

Gilbert also exhibited effective communication skills. His assignment submissions were detailed and well-organized, and his discussion posts were consistently clear and insightful. Furthermore, he regularly engaged with his peers by providing thoughtful follow-up responses, encouraging his classmates, and offering helpful tips throughout the course.

I highly recommend Gilbert for employment. He is an exceptional student with a versatile skill set who would be a valuable asset to your company.

Sincerely,
